Tohita Sets New Standard for Copier Consumables

December 7, 2021 / 0 Comments / in Aftermarket, Office Supplies / by Tai Branco

Tohita Sets New Standard for Copier Consumables

More and more, international buyers are looking for consistent high quality products from China and abandoning those products which causes them to lose customers.

According to Benson Ye (pictured left), Managing Director at Tohita, buyers are demanding high quality products from a range of suppliers to get what they need for their customers. To this end Tohita's new business model sources a wide range of products from key manufacturers.

Tohita is a leading copier, toner, drum and spare part manufacturer in China. Known for competitive prices, reliable quality and value-added service, Tohita is an excellent manufacturer of copier consumables with over eleven years of rich industry experience.

Tohita is now able to offer a wider range of products, including copier toner, remanufactured drum units, fuser units, and related spare parts. They respect the planet and prefer working with recycled cartridges, so 60% of their full product range is made with re-manufactured consumables. Tohita copier consumables are manufactured mainly for Xerox, Toshiba, Ricoh, Konica Minolta, OKI, Utax and Kyocera.

Customers can rely on Tohita for consistent, high-quality products. Artisan craftsmanship is important to Tohita; with this in mind, production and quality checks are completed to ensure the best performance.

Tohita Proves the Importance of Sustainable Copier Consumables

December 8, 2021 / 0 Comments / in Aftermarket / by Tai Branco

Tohita Proves the Importance of Sustainable Copier Consumables

Sustainability is quickly becoming a prerequisite for customers globally, and plays a major part in which companies they choose to buy from. Tohita is leading the way for the copier consumables industry to embrace this change.

Tohita has a reputation for reliable products sold at competitive prices, and are the leading copier, toner, drum and spare part manufacturer in China. Now, they're drawing on eleven years of industry experience to create a sustainable business for customers around the world. 60% of Tohita's full product range is made with re-manufactured consumables, something both staff and customers are proud of.

"Sustainability has a huge effect on our current research and development," said Benson Ye (pictured), Managing Director at Tohita. "More than half of our products are remanufactured and premium quality, and we are learning more every day." Caring for the planet is a key part of their philosophy and caters to what customers really want right now.

I met Benson Ye first at our RemaxWorld Expo in September and was impressed.

Benson's passionate about delivering a no-fuss, quality experience for his customers. He's been doing it for 11 years. As a result, his business is starting to boom internationally as well. I suggested to him it is all about the single word, "trust."

Buyers want suppliers they can trust. Do you agree?

Benson certainly does. He continues to build his business on this principle, and I commend him to you.

"I know the imaging supplies industry very well," he told me. "I know who makes the quality components and who is making the rubbish. TOHITA always choose trusted component suppliers and we stick to strict testing procedures."
